

RUTGERS

Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy

FALL 2022 PISG WORKSHOP

KNOWLEDGE GRAPHS IN NATURAL LANGUAGE PROCESSING OVERCOME DOMAIN ADAPTATION CHALLENGES IN LANGUAGE MODELS

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Vivek Kumar

University of Cagliari, Italy

Vivek Kumar is an NLP Enthusiast. He is presently working as a Marie Skłodowska-Curie Researcher with the University of Cagliari, Italy and Philips Research, Netherlands for PhilHumans (European Commission, Horizon 2020, ITN project). Prior to this, he worked as a Research Engineer for the project "Search for Hidden Particle" (SHiP) of the European Commission of Nuclear Research (CERN) at NUST-MiSiS. He received his MS degree from NUST-MiSiS in Computer Science. In his career so far, he has authored several publications with Journals, Book Series and Conferences of International repute. He is also the reviewer / editor for several Journals and International Conferences of IEEE, Springer, ACM, etc

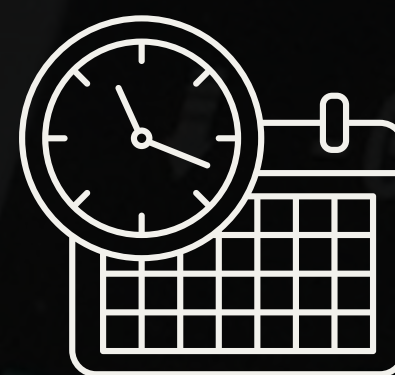

PISG Student leaders will present their experiences with studying informatics and analytics @ Bloustein

Prof. Jim Samuel, Director of the Master of Public Informatics (MPI) program at Bloustein, will provide closing comments on the potential for using NLP in AI for public good initiatives

WEBINAR LINK

REGISTER

11th November 2022

Time: 11:00 - 12:15 PM

Pizza and drinks will be available for in-person attendees!

The event is hosted by the PISG, the MPI program and the Rutgers Urban & Civic Informatics (RUCI) Lab, the Bloustein Student Services and BGSA in collaboration with our partners at Rutgers University and our external collaborators.

Events URL: Intelligent Informatics @ Bloustein Workshop and Seminar Series

Master of Public Informatics

Public Informatics Student Group

